Veterinary Degree

Academic actions of improvement

Brief description

Approval of all the Teaching Guides of the first three courses of the degree and its publication on the web before the beginning of the 2012-13 academic.

Explanation

During 2010-2011, the first course of the Veterinary Degree was implemented in the absence of the Grade Coordinator and Teaching Guides. The preparation of Guides for the second course, for the same reason, did not begin until June 2010 (at which time it is named Coordinator). All this has motivated the students not to have available in time this valuable information. Although in most cases the teachers provided information in other ways, in some cases it was not enough, in the opinion of the students.

Person in charge for action and follow-up

Directors of the Departments of the Areas with teaching assigned on these subjects (designation of Coordinators of each subject) Teachers Coordinators of each subject (coordination of the elaboration of the Guide) Grade Coordinator (ultimate responsible for the process) Grade Quality Assurance Commission (approval of the Guides)

Execution period

Before the start of the 2012-2013 academic year (deadline July 31, 2012) Guides must arrive: To Grade Coordinator by January 31, 2012 To Quality Assurance Commission by February 29 To student by July 31, 2012

Brief description

Review and correction of the specific problems of each subject reflected in the surveys and meetings held with teachers and students

Explanation

The sources of information cited in the evaluation report reveal a number of problems specific to some of the subjects in the first year, for example: - The low level of part of the student body with respect to some of the Baccalaureate subjects that are the basis of the first year subjects - Rates of success and/or performance that can be improved - Low motivation of the student to take the subject - Subjects that encompass several independent disciplines - Excessive workload/demanding level These are not serious problems, but it is necessary to communicate them to the teaching staff in order to try to find a solution for them.

Execution period

Second quadrimester of 2011-12

Brief description

Review of the system for assessing the learning outcomes of first-year subjects

Explanation

Both the first subject assessment surveys and meetings with student representatives and the success and achievement rates in some subjects reveal problems in the assessment of several of the first subjects. In some cases the student requests a greater number of evaluation tests, in others a greater weight in the final grade of some of the evaluation activities, and in general a better definition of the evaluation criteria, etc. All of this makes it necessary, after the first year of implementation of the first year, to review the evaluation systems of a large part of the subjects of the first year in joint meetings of the coordinators of all of them, with the aim of, in addition to introducing the appropriate changes, homogenizing criteria and the degree of continuous evaluation to the extent that the differences between the two subjects allow it

Brief description

Enhance the coordination between first-year subjects

Explanation

The first-year subjects whose contents belong to the area of Morphology (Cytology and Histology, Embryology and Anatomy I and Embryology and Anatomy II) must improve their temporal coordination, so that the study of macroscopic Anatomy precedes or is carried out in parallel with that of microscopic Anatomy. The overlapping of first-year undergraduate and second-year undergraduate courses during the 2010-11 academic year posed a scheduling problem that did not allow for optimum coordination. Once this phase is over, the enhance of the coordination is feasible.

Organisational improvement actions

Brief description

Programming of the activities planned in the corresponding Teaching Guides for the first three years subjects, before the beginning of the academic year 2012-13, designating course coordinators and assigning the administrative tasks to a person with continuity in their dedication to this task.

Explanation

Students and teachers have reflected in their surveys a certain degree of improvisation in the programming of teaching activities during the past academic year 2010-11. Let us remember that this course took place without the Grade Coordinator being appointed, the lack of sufficient staff in the secretariat, added changes and transfers that aggravated the situation. Veterinary studies involve a large number of practical hours of a very diverse nature in terms of duration, size of practice groups, coordination in the calendar with the theoretical classes, place of performance ... All this makes the joint programming of all subjects of the course is unavoidable for the student to work. On the other hand, the great complexity of the programming requires a high number of hours of dedication that advises: 1.- Appoint a coordinator for each course that gathers information on the programmed teaching activities and coordinates it in a course calendar. 2.- Have a PAS member dedicated to administrative support tasks for the Grade (see point 7.3), to whom this information can be transferred. 3.- That the Grade Coordinator resolve any problems that may arise between the different courses. The Grade Coordinator will assume during the academic year 2012-2013 the coordination of the third year of the Grade, given that it is the first year in which it is implemented. The administrative personnel assigned to this task should be assigned on a continuous basis so that, once experience has been acquired, they are not replaced by another person who should begin from the beginning to be trained in these very complex tasks. The administrative personnel assigned to this task should be assigned on a continuous basis so that, once they have acquired experience, they are not replaced by another person who would have to begin from the beginning to be trained in these very complex tasks.

Person in charge for action and follow up

Subjects Coordinator
Coordinator of the Degree
Administrative and financial services manager of the FVZ.

Execution period

Before the beginning of the 2012-2013 academic year (deadline 31st of July 2011) the programming of each subject should be at:

- Course Coordinator's disposition before the 31st of May 2011
- Coordinator of the Degree's disposition before the 30th of June 2012
- Student's disposition before the 1st of September 2013

Brief description

Enhance of the participation of students, academic and support staff in the degree assessment procedures (surveys).

Explanation

Given the low student participation in some of the subject surveys ("educlick") it is proposed to change the assessment procedure: - Do not do them in the last class - Do not do them together with the teacher evaluation surveys (which in our center are face-to-face, on paper) - Do them in a normal theoretical class (in 10 min) - For this, the system could be set up one or two days per classroom. On the other hand it will be necessary to insist more teachers and PAS to complete their surveys "on line".

Person in charge for action and follow up

Coordinator of the Degree
Administrative and financial services Manager of the FVZ

Execution period

In the estimated time to carry out each sort of surveys.

Brief description

Facilitate student participation in the activities programmed within the framework of the Proyecto Tutor.

Explanation

Need to programme a fixed time slot in each semester for Proyecto Tutor activities, which does not coincide with any lecture or practice session so that students can attend.

Person in charge for action and follow up

Person appointed by the Dean for coordinating the Proyecto Tutor

Execution period

When programming next course teaching sessions.

Brief description

Drawing up and diffusion of some basic rules to maintain in the spaces and times destined for teaching

Explanation

Teachers express their concern about student's behaviour in the classrooms (punctuality, silence...) and ask the Centre for rules on this matter, which allow them to apply unified criteria and reinforce their authority if necessary.

Description

Minimize the negative impact of the inclusion of 2 ECTS by recognition of English level B1 in the first course of the Veterinary Degree.

Explanation

1. The inclusion of these ECTS in this course obliges the student to accredit level B1 during the first course or to re-enrol in the following course(s), with the economic cost that this entails. This does not seem fair, being a starting language level (to be acquired during the Grade years). Therefore, we propose that the enrolment must be done in the first year and valid to accredit the level B1 during the 5 courses of the Degree
2. . On the other hand, the students have again requested that the teaching aimed at the acquisition of level B1 of English, corresponding to the 2 ECTS, be given so that the students who wish so can take it.
3. Finally, as many students of first year have already reached level B1 of English, it is necessary to inform them properly that they can recognise these 2 ECTS by means of presenting a B1Englis level certification.
4. it is also important that accreditations, if any, have to be communicated to the student in time, so that he student can take the exam in case of refusal.

Description

Keeping the administrative staff, with adequate training and experience for the support tasks to the Degrees and Masters of the Centre.

Explanation

As it has been commented previously, the Veterinary studies entails a great quantity of practical hours of very diverse nature due to their duration, size of the groups of practices, chronological coordination with the theoretical classes, place of accomplishment... All this makes that the joint and coordinated programming of all the subjects of the course is unavoidable so that the student can receive a quality teaching. On the other hand, the great complexity of the programme requires a high number of hours of dedication, which makes it advisable to have a member of the support staff dedicated to administrative support for the Degree, whose main functions with respect to the programme would be: introducing all the data into the application, correcting errors and assigning groups of students to each of the programmed sessions, managing the occupation of the common spaces dedicated to teaching on each day and hour, assigning students to their practice groups, etc.

Descripción (2 líneas max)

Request the revision of the regulations that oblige the inclusion in the UZ 2 ECTS Grade Study Plans due to the acquisition of level B1 of English

Explanation

1. If the B1 level of English is considered to be that of the Baccalaureate, the student has already accredited it.
2. On the contrary, if it is an exit level, the student should receive teaching to reach it, and 2 ECTS in that case may be insufficient.
3. These 2 ECTS are not included in all the degrees of Unizar, nor in the rest of the Veterinary Degrees in Spain. This fact represents a comparative grievance, specifically for our Degree in Veterinary Science (the student loses 2 ECTS of specific training
4. La necesidad de reservar los últimos cursos para asignaturas que precisan de formación básica previa, motivó la introducción de estos créditos en el primer curso de nuestro Grado de Veterinaria, agravando con ello el problema.

Academic actions of improvement

Brief description

Approval of all the Teaching Guidelines of the first four courses of the degree and publication of the same on the web before the beginning of the 2012-13 academic year

Explanation

In the next academic year 2013-14, the fourth year of the Degree will be implemented, consisting of six compulsory subjects and two electives to choose from among four options. The former integrate the knowledge of several of the subjects of the Degree, grouping the contents by species. This makes the coordination and organization of this fourth course especially complex, so that already in the last course work was started on the programs. The aim of the current course is to elaborate, approve and publish the corresponding guides

On the other hand, there are still teaching guides to be published on the web that have either been approved in the first quarter of this academic year or have yet to be approved. These should also be ready before the start of the next academic year.

Person in charge for action and follow-up

Department Directors
Subject Coordinators of each subject
Coordinator of the Degree
Quality Assurance Committee (approval)

Execution period

Before the beginning of the 2013-2014 (deadline 31st of July 2013) Teaching Guidelines should be at:

- Coordinator of the Degree before 31st of March 2013
- Quality Assurance Committee before the 30th April 2013
- Student before the 31st of July 2013

Brief description

To provide third level students with information about the integration subjects they will be taking in 2013-14.

Explanation

As it has already been mentioned, the integration subjects gather the knowledge of several of the subjects of the Degree, grouping the contents by species. The novelty that these subjects represent for teachers and students, together with their complexity, have generated concern and demand for information among students. To satisfy this request, we will hold an informative meeting before the beginning of the next academic year, which will be attended by the coordinators of the 6 integration subjects and the Grade coordinator

Person in charge for action and follow-up

Subject Coordinators of each subject
Coordinator of the Degree

Execution period

June 2013 and/or September 2013, always before the starting of lectures.

Brief description

Revise and correct specific problems of each subject that have pop out from the surveys and meetings held by students and teachers

Explanation

The sources of information quoted in the assessment report reveal a number of specific problems in some of first year the subjects , namely regarding:

- Success rate and/or low performance (Biology and Biochemistry)
- Student low motivation to take the subject
- Assessment system
- Excessive workload /level of demand

In general, these are not serious problems, but it is necessary to communicate them to the academic staff in order to try to find a solution for them

Brief description

Revision of the system for the evaluation of the learning outcomes of the first and second year subjects

Explanation

On the one hand, it can be seen that subjects with a higher degree of continuous assessment have better success and performance rates.

On the other hand, teachers and students complain about theoretical exams taken outside the official announcement dates, which make difficult to attend class.

This makes it necessary to review with the subject coordinators the assessment systems, seeking to increase the degree of continuous training and the follow-up of guidelines to be approved in this regard by the Quality Assurance Committee.

Brief description

Further enhance of the coordination among second year subjects

Explanation

Some of semester subjects of second year, first and second semester respectively, overlap a part of their contents. It is necessary to analyse what content is taught in both in order to avoid repetitions and increase the time spent on topics that are not repeated (Agronomy and Nutrition ...)

On the other hand, some of the second year subjects miss some basic training due to it is already given in first year subjects, which needs to be reviewed and included after a meeting among all affected subjects teachers (Basic Sciences and Quantitative Genetics, Basic Sciences and Biology and Biochemistry...)

Brief description

Programming of the activities planned in the corresponding Teaching Guides for the subjects of the first four years of the Degree, before the beginning of the 2013-14 academic year, appointing course coordinators and assigning administrative tasks to a person with continuity in their dedication to this task..

Explanation

The programming of teaching activities during the past academic year 2011-12 improved over previous years thanks to the appointment of a coordinator per course and that we had a member the support staff dedicated to administrative support tasks to the Grade, properly trained for it and with continuity in their work.

Veterinary studies involve a large number of practical hours of a very diverse nature in terms of length, size of practice groups, coordination in the calendar with the theoretical classes, place of completion ... All this makes the joint programming of all subjects of the course is unavoidable for students to work. On the other hand, the great complexity of the programming requires a high number of hours of dedication. In the next academic year, the implementation of integration subjects makes programming even more difficult.

During the academic year 2013-2014, the Coordinator of the Degree will assume the coordination of the fourth year course, given that this is the first course in which the following is implemented.

It will be necessary to designate coordinators for the first and second year course in order to help those of the past year, so that the following year they can take on the task, thus establishing a biannual rotation

It will also be necessary to appoint a third year course coordinator.

The support staff assigned to this task should continue to be so on an ongoing basis so that, once they have acquired experience, they are not replaced by another person who would have to start from the beginning to be trained in these very complex tasks.

Description

Improve access system for first-year students

Explicación y justificación

Se insta a la Universidad a que estudie con la mayor celeridad posible una solución adecuada que permita a los alumnos de nuevo ingreso conocer antes del comienzo de las clases su aceptación o no en este u otros Grados, de modo que se evite o reduzca el absentismo de este grupo de alumnos durante las primeras semanas del curso. Del mismo modo, se solicita la reducción en lo posible del periodo de matriculación. Por último, se solicita la reducción del periodo de llamamiento de nuevos estudiantes limitándolo a los meses de septiembre y octubre. La incorporación de nuevos estudiantes en los meses de noviembre y diciembre dificulta el normal funcionamiento del curso, además que avoca a estos estudiantes al fracaso en la mayoría de las asignaturas que componen el primer cuatrimestre.

Description

Improvement of the system for conducting student surveys and simplification of the teacher evaluation process

Explanation

The University is urged to study as quickly as possible an appropriate solution that allows new students to know before the start of classes their acceptance or not in this or other Grades, so as to avoid or reduce absenteeism of this group of students during the first weeks of the course. Similarly, a reduction in the enrolment period is requested as far as possible. Finally, the reduction of the call period for new students is requested, limiting it to the months of September and October. The incorporation of new students in the months of November and December hinders the normal functioning of the course, in addition to leading these students to failure in most of the subjects that make up the first four-month period..

Description

Improvement of the sources of information provided by Unizar for the preparation of the Annual Quality Assessment Report.

Explanation

We are grateful for the effort made in this course by the Vice-Rectorate for Academic Policy that has allowed us to have a more detailed analysis of success rates and performance and the distribution of grades of the subjects. However, the Vice-Rectorship Office is urged to implement data processing, offering average values of success and performance rates by terms and courses, and graphs to illustrate the distribution of grade FVZ Open courses in the Open Course Ware (OCW) platform s by subjects, terms and courses.

Proposal	Description	Responsable de la acción y seguimiento	Beginning	End	Approval
Increase the number of English Teachers	Request at least one more English teacher to the Faculty of Veterinary Science, given that practically all students demand to study the subject "Scientific English for Veterinary Medicine", which allows students to obtain level B1 of English and for which there is only one teacher.	Quality Assurance Committee Chairman	7 January 2014	31 January 2014	Vice-Rector for Academic Staff. Director of the English Studies Department
Study the needs of external internship teaching staff in order to teach "Practicum"	In the next academic year 2014-15,"Practicum", which includes 16 ECTS, must be implemented in fifth year with an attendance of between 60 and 80%. Part of these subjects will have to be taught outside the Faculty, given the lack of the necessary facilities (mainly farms and livestock farms). It is necessary to analyse the number of external internship teachers needed for this and make the corresponding request.	Quality Assurance Committee Chairman	7 January 2014	Date established by the Vice-Rector for Academic Staff	Vice-Rector for Academic Staff
Request the assignment of the new professors of external practices dedicated to the Clinical Practicum of Farm Animals to the FVZ or, if this is not possible, to assign them jointly to the three Areas to which the subject is assigned.	The Clinical Animal Practicum gathers contents integrated by species and which jointly belong to the three Areas of Knowledge to which the subject is assigned, so it is not possible to determine to which area each teacher should be assigned. It is proposed to assign them to the centre or jointly to the three areas.	Quality Assurance Committee Chairman	7 January 2014	Date established by the Vice-Rector for Academic Staff	Vice-Rector for Academic Staff
Establish new agreements with farms and livestock farms dedicated to monogastric and ruminant species and/or hire associated teachers whose work is carried out in this type of establishments.	Since there are no farms or livestock farms at the FVZ necessary for the implementation of the "Clinical Practicum of Abasto specie", it will be necessary to ensure that the teachers hired to teach them provide their workplaces for students to accompany them to perform their practices, signing, if necessary, new agreements with work centers.	Decano	7 January 2014	Date established by the Vice-Rector for Academic Staff	Vice-Rector for Academic Staff
